Complimentary Webinar

May 19, 2026

Rising energy costs, increasing regulatory pressure, and growing demand for sustainable practices are pushing manufacturers to modernize.

This complimentary webinar will introduce the RISE PA (Reducing Industrial Sector Emissions in Pennsylvania) program and how it can help you take action. Eligible small and mid-sized manufacturers may receive up to $500,000 in funding, covering 50% of project costs, including equipment and labor. This funding can help de-risk your next capital investment and position your facility for the future. You'll also learn about the no-cost energy assessment and how Pennsylvania Technical Assistance Program supports you through the process.
